Member, Mathworks Steering Committee. (2001 - Present).

Additional Comments: The Mathworks Steering Committee is an outstanding group of individuals who I work with to give guidance, ideas, and support to Mathworks. They have helped raise the Mathworks Endowment that is now over $4 million. We meet 3-4 times per year, and are now working on a $6 million legacy campaign to endow our programs as we prepare for the 30 year anniversary celebration of Mathworks in 2019.

Member, Ph.D. Committee. (2014 - 2018).

Additional Comments: I worked a lot on this past year co-chairing the committee to put together the Math Department Open House. This included visits to the Rio Grande Valley with Terry McCabe to recruit potential students, as well as contacting other school including U. Texas, Southwestern, and UTSA. I also set up a rotation schedule for courses to involve more faculty.

C. Community:

Director /founder, Mathworks Junior Summer Math Camp. (1996 - Present).

Additional Comments: Dr. Warshauer founded the Honors Summer Math Camp (HSMC) for talented high school students in 1990 and has taught the number theory course in this program each summer. He extended the HSMC to include younger students in 1996 when he began the Junior Summer Math Camp (JSMC) and developed this into a replicable model that included teacher training in 1997. He began Mathworks as a center of excellence in mathematics eduction to coordinate these student and teacher training programs, curriculum development, and related research about each of these programs.

Over 8000 students and 700 teachers have attended Mathworks Summer programs. Mathworks was one of five programs in Texas to receive the 2001 Texas Higher Education Star Award for Closing the Gaps. Dr. Warshauer was one of 10 individuals in the country to receive the 2001 Presidential Award for Excellence in Science, Mathematics, and Engineering Mentoring, presented by Rita Colwell, Director of the National Science Foundation on behalf of President Bush. The role of mentoring is a critical component of all of these programs, and provides a way to reach out to and support particularly underrepresented groups.

Mathworks sent the first U. S. teams ever to compete in the Primary Math World Contest (PMWC) in Hong Kong. These teams have won the Po Leung Kuk Cup 9 times as the top non-Asian team, and finished first overall in 2013, 2014, and 2016. Mathworks established international connections with teams throughout the far east, including especially Indonesia which has sent students to participate in the JSMC each of the past 6 years.

In December, 2007, Mathworks received the Siemens Founders Award which each year recognizes one person or program in the country for their contributions to developing future leaders in math, science, and technology.

Director/founder, Honors Summer Math Camp. (1990 - Present).

Additional Comments: Dr. Warshauer uses grants to support Texas State undergraduates to learn about teaching. Grants from the National Science Foundation (NSF-4 grants), Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education (FIPSE), and 4 Teacher Quality Grants through the Texas Education Agency supported teacher training that resulted in training over 660 teachers. Grants from the Kodosky Foundation and Siemens Foundation provided opportunities for disadvantaged students to attend the JSMC and HSMC. Fourteen (14) grants from the American Math Society Epsilon Fund, which each year recognizes the top 10 or so summer programs in the country, along with other sponsors and donors has provided over $100,000 each summer in scholarships for disadvantaged students to attend the Mathworks summer math camps. In total, Dr. Warshauer has raised over $11 million in grants and donations to support Mathworks programs. Dr. Warshauer has always tried to ensure that financial background is not a problem for students to attend Mathworks summer programs, while using grants to introduce Texas State undergraduates and graduate students to exciting opportunities in teaching, research, and curriculum development.

D. Organization Memberships:
