TEXAS STATE VITA

I. Academic/Professional Background

Name: Jeff Karr Title: Assistant Professor of Instruction

Educational Background

Bachelor of Science, 2012, University of Kansas, Journalism
Master of Fine Arts, 2018, Texas State University, Creative Writing—Fiction

University Experience

Assistant Professor of Instruction, August 2024—Present
Lecturer, Texas State University, August 2018 —July 2024
Lecturer, Austin Community College, August 2019 —December 2021
Editorial Assistant, Texas State University, January 2016 —August 2019
TA, Texas State University, August 2017—May 2018

Relevant Professional Experience

Copywriter, Mossy Copy LLC, June 2023—August 2023
Copywriter, Nine Supply LLC, June 2021—August 2021
Pipeline Coordinator, Groupon Goods, January 2015–August 2015

II. Teaching

Courses Taught: ENG 1310 College Writing I; ENG 1320 College Writing II; ENG 2359 American Literature Before 1865; ENG 2360 American Literature After 1865; ENG 3315 Intro to Creative Writing

III. Scholarly/Creative

Fiction:
“The Summer of All Things Family” Bull Literary Magazine
“The Flinch” Pithead Chapel Literary Journal
“Company Man” X-R-A-Y Literary Magazine
Book Reviews:
“Transmigration of Bodies” Front Porch Journal,
“2084: The End of the World” Front Porch Journal
“Kingdom Cons” Front Porch Journal
“Bolaño Revisited” Front Porch Journal

Fellowships, Awards, Honors: LD and Harell Clark Scholarship